AMD design and manufacture amazing graphics cards and microprocessors that power millions of the world's personal computers, tablets, gaming consoles, embedded devices and cloud servers. What's more, we create new and innovative solutions for human/technology interaction.